

Direct Object Pronouns

Direct objects receive the action of the verb in a sentence. They answer the question whom? or what? about the verb. Direct object pronouns (or DOP's) take the place of direct object nouns.

Ejemplo:

I have the passport. I have it.

Tengo el pasaporte. Lo tengo.

Direct object pronouns can be used to replace direct object nouns. Here's how:

Direct Object Pronouns
Singular		Plural
Me	Me	Nos	Us
Te	You (familiar)	Os	You (familiar)
Lo	You (formal), him, it	Los	You, them
La	You (formal), her, it	Las	You, them

masculine femenine

Direct object pronouns are placed directly before conjugated verbs.

Veo a la profesora.
I see the teacher.

La veo.
I see her.

Héctor tiene el itinerario.
Héctor has the itinerary.

Héctor lo tiene.
Héctor has it.

When an infinitive follows the conjugated verb, the direct object pronoun can be placed before the conjugated verb or attached to the infinitive.

No voy a hacer la maleta hoy.
I'm not going to pack the suitcase today.

Indirect Object Pronouns

Indirect objects are nouns that answer the questions to whom? or for whom? about the verb. Indirect object pronouns (or IDOP's) take the place of indirect object nouns.

Ejemplo:

Rosa gives her a ticket.

indirect object noun

Rosa le da un boleto.

indirect object pronoun

In Spanish, indirect object pronouns are used to accompany or replace nouns that act as indirect objects. Here's how:

The indirect object pronouns me, te, nos, and os are the same as the direct object pronouns. Only the usted/él/ella and ustedes/ellos/ellas forms are different.

Indirect Object Pronouns
Singular		Plural
Me	Me	Nos	Us
Te	You (familiar)	Os	You (familiar)
Le	You (formal), him, her	Les	You, them

In Spanish, you must use the indirect object pronoun to accompany the noun it modifies or to replace the noun. The pronoun appears before conjugated verbs.

Mamá les da el dinero a José y Ana.
Mom gives José and Ana the money.

Mamá les da el dinero.
Mom gives them the money.

When an infinitive follows the conjugated verb, the indirect object pronoun can be placed before the conjugated verb or attached to the infinitive.

Preterite of IR, SER, HACER, VER & DAR

The verbs ir, ser, hacer, ver and dar are irregular in the preterite tense. They are formed without regular past-tense endings.

Here's how:

IR & SER

The preterite forms of ir and ser are exactly the same. You must use clues in the sentence to determine whether ir or ser is being used in the preterite.

ir to go / ser to be
Yo	fui	Nosotros(as)	fuimos
Tú	fuiste	Vosotros(as)	fuisteis
Usted, Él, Ella	fue	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	fueron

Fuimos al parque de diversiones.
We went to the amusement park.

Fue un día muy divertido!
It was a very fun day!

HACER

Hacer has its own preterite-tense forms. In the usted/él/ella form the c of the stem becomes a z.

hacer to do; to make
Yo	hice	Nosotros(as)	hicimos
Tú	hiciste	Vosotros(as)	hicisteis
Usted, Él, Ella	hizo	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	hicieron

- ¿Qué hizo usted ayer?
- What did you do yesterday?
- Hice la tarea.
- I did the homework.

VER & DAR

The verbs ver and dar take regular -er/-ir past tense endings in the preterite but have no written accent marks.

ver to see

Yo	vi	Nosotros(as)	vimos
Tú	viste	Vosotros(as)	visteis
Usted, Él, Ella	vio	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	vieron

dar to give

Yo	di	Nosotros(as)	dimos
Tú	diste	Vosotros(as)	disteis
Usted, Él, Ella	dio	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	dieron

Vimos mucho arte interesante en el museo.
We saw a lot of interesting art at the museum.

Mi amigo me dio un regalo.
My friend gave me a gift.

Preterite of –AR verbs

Tense refers to when an action takes place. Many verbs are spelled differently in the past tense than they are in the present tense. For regular verbs, the endings change.

Ejemplo:

He talks. Él habla.

present tense verb endings

He talked. Él habló.

past-tense verb endings

The preterite tense in Spanish tells what happened at a particular moment in the past. How do you form the preterite of –ar verbs?

Here's how: Like present-tense verbs, you form the preterite tense of regular verbs by adding tense endings to the verb stem.

visitar to visit
Yo	Visité	Nosotros(as)	Visitamos
Tú	Visitaste	Vosotros(as)	Visitasteis
Usted, Él, Ella	Visitó	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	visitaron

Durante las vacaciones, yo monté a caballo, mi mamá visitó un museo y mis hermanos nadaron.

During vacation, I went horseback riding, my mom visited a museum and my brothers went swimming.

The nosotros ending in the preterite tense is the same as in the present tense. Look for clues in the sentence to help you determine whether the verb is in the present or past tense.

Acampamos anoche en el parque.

We camped last night in the park.

The word anoche tells you that the verb acampamos is in the preterite tense, not the present.

Preterite of –ER/-IR verbs

Regular –er and –ir verbs are different from regular –ar verbs in the preterite tense.

Regular –er and –ir verbs have the same preterite endings.

comer to eat
Yo	Comí	Nosotros(as)	Comimos
Tú	Comiste	Vosotros(as)	Comisteis
Usted, Él, Ella	Comió	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	Comieron

escribir to write
Yo	Escribí	Nosotros(as)	Escribimos
Tú	Escribiste	Vosotros(as)	Escribisteis
Usted, Él, Ella	Escribió	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	Escribieron

Note that the nosotros form of –ir verbs is the same in the preterite and in the present tense (-imos). Look for clues in the sentence to help you recognize whether the verb is in the present or past tense.

Recibimos el premio ayer.  The word ayer tells you that recibimos is in the preterite tense.
We received the prize yesterday.

Reflexive Verbs

In Spanish, all reflexive verbs are expressed with a reflexive pronoun.

- In the infinitive form of reflexive verbs, the reflexive pronoun attaches to the end: bañarse.
- When you conjugate reflexive verbs, the pronoun appears _____ the conjugated verb.

bañarse to bathe/to take a bath
Yo	me baño	Nosotros(as)	nos bañamos
Tú	te bañas	Vosotros(as)	os bañáis
Usted, Él, Ella	se baña	Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	se bañan

MODELO: Jorgito se baña a las ocho. Jorgito takes a bath at eight.

When a reflexive verb follows a conjugated verb, use the correct reflexive pronoun with the infinitive.

You can attach the pronoun to the infinitive.

¿A qué hora quieres despertarte?
What time do you want to wake up?

You can also place the pronoun before the conjugated verb.

Me quiero despertar a las siete.
I want to wake up at seven.

Some verbs are not always reflexive.

Not reflexive

Yo despierto a Celia a las siete.

I wake up Celia at seven.

Reflexive

Yo me despierto a las siete.

I wake (myself) up at seven.

Present Progressive

English grammar connection: The PRESENT PROGRESSIVE TENSE is used to say that something is happening NOW. In English, you make it by using a form of the verb to be with a verb that ends in -ing, called a PRESENT PARTICIPLE.

They are singing.

Ellos están cantando.

Use the present tense of ESTAR plus the PRESENT PARTICIPLE to form the PRESENT PROGRESSIVE.

Here's how: To make a present participle, drop the end of the infinitive and add:

-ando (-ar verbs) or -iendo (-er/-ir verbs)

Estoy comprando las toallas.
I am buying the towels.

¿Qué estás comiendo?
What are you eating?

When the stem of an -er or -ir verb ends in a vowel, change the -iendo to -yendo.

A diagram illustrating the transformation of the verb "leer" into its gerund form "leyendo". A curved arrow originates from the word "leer" and points to the right, where the word "leyendo" is written. The word "becomes" is placed between the two words, indicating the relationship.

Some -ir verbs change vowels in the stem of the present participle form.

e → i decir → diciendo
o → u dormir → durmiendo

Pronouns can either be placed before the conjugated form of estar or attached to the end of the PRESENT PARTICIPLE. When you attach a pronoun to the present participle, you need to add an accent to the stressed vowel.

before after

Me estoy arreglando. or Estoy arreglándome.
I am getting ready.

Present Tense of Irregular YO Verbs

Some present-tense verbs are irregular only in the yo form. They have endings different from the -o ending of regular verbs.

Here's how: The verbs hacer, poner, salir, and traer end in -go in the yo form.
Compare them with their tú forms in the present tense.

hacer to make; to do		poner to put; to place	salir to go out; to leave	traer to bring
yo	hago	pongo	salgo	traigo
tú	haces	pones	sales	traes

The verbs decir, venir, and tener also end in -go in the yo form.
All are stem-changing verbs, but only decir changes its stem in the yo form.

decir (e→i) to say; to tell	venir (e→ie) to come	tener (e→ie) to have
yo	digo	vengo
tú	dices	vienes

Conocer*, dar, saber, and *ver also have irregular yo forms in the present tense.

conocer to know; to meet	dar to give	saber to know	ver to see
yo	conozco	doy	sé
tú	conoces	das	veo

Pronouns after Prepositions

Pronouns that follow prepositions are different from subject pronouns and object pronouns.

Here's how: Use these pronouns after prepositions like para, de, a, and con.

Pronouns after Prepositions
mí	nosotros(as)
ti	vosotros(as)
él, ella, usted	ellos, ellas, ustedes

Notice that these pronouns are the same as the subject pronouns in all forms except mí (yo) and ti (tú).

Clara vive lejos de nosotros.

preposition pronoun

Clara lives far from us.

Tengo un regalo para ti.

preposition pronoun

I have a gift for you.

With verbs like gustar, use pronouns after the preposition a to add emphasis.

A mí no me gusta la ropa de cuadros.

preposition pronoun

I really don't like plaid clothes.

The pronoun after a can also clarify to whom a sentence refers.

Uncertain

Le gusta ir a la librería.

He/She/You like(s) to go to the bookstore.

Certain

A él le gusta ir a la librería.

He likes to go to the bookstore.

preposition

pronoun

When you use mí and ti after the preposition con, they combine with con to form the words connmigo and contigo.

¿Vas a la fiesta connmigo o con Jorge?

Are you going to the party with me or with Jorge?

preposition

pronoun

No voy con él; voy contigo.

I'm not going with him; I'm going with you.

preposition

pronoun

How long?

To describe how long something has been going on, use:

Hace + the period of time + que + the present tense

Hace dos meses que quiero comprar esa pintura.

How long ago?

To describe how long ago something happened, use:

Hace + the period of time + que + the preterite tense

Hace dos años que fui a Puerto Rico.

I went to Puerto Rico two years ago.

Irregular Preterite Verbs

English Grammar Connection: To form the past tense of irregular verbs in English you do not add the regular ending of -ed ending. Instead, you change the form of the verb.

she is becomes→ she was ella está becomes→ ella estuvo

The verbs estar*, poder, poner, saber, and *tener are irregular in the preterite tense. To form the preterite of these verbs, you must change their stems and add irregular preterite endings.

Here's how: Each of these verbs has a unique stem in the preterite, but they all take the same endings.

Verb	Stem
estar	to be	estuv-	-e	-imos
poder	to be able	pud-	-iste	-isteis
poner	to put / to place	pus-	-o	-ieron
saber	to know	sup-

Dónde pusiste mi wallet? Where did you put my wallet?

Ella estuvo en casa ayer. She was at home yesterday.

The verb saber usually has a different meaning in the preterite. It means to find out.

Yo supe la verdad ayer. I found out the truth yesterday.

Preterite of –ir Stem-Changing Verbs

English Grammar Connection: Most English verbs in the past tense have the same form no matter who the subject is: I asked, you asked, they asked. In Spanish, however, some verbs must change their stems in the past tense depending on the person who carries out the action.

Remember that many –ir, verbs have stem changes in the present tense. These verbs change their stems in some forms of the preterite tense too.

Here's how: Stem-changing –ir verbs in the preterite change only in the 3rd person singular (usted/él/ella) and the 3rd person plural (ustedes/ellos/ellas) forms.

Preterite tense e → i pedir – to ask for

pedí	pedimos
pediste	pedisteis
pidió	pidieron

¿Qué pidió en el mercado?
What did they ask for as the market?

Preterite tense o → u

dormir – to sleep
dormí	dormimos
dormiste	dormisteis
durmió	durmieron

Zulma durmió diez horas anoche.
Zulma slept ten hours last night.

Here are some other e → i preterite stem-changing verbs that follow the pattern of pedir.

preferir	to prefer
servir	to serve
vestirse	to get dressed
competir	to compete
seguir	to follow

¿Quiénes compitieron en el campeonato?
Who competed in the championship?

Nosotros competimos y ganamos.
We competed and we won.

El imperfecto

The imperfect is another past tense in Spanish. You use it to describe something that was not “perfected” or “completed” in the past.

Use it to:

- Talk about something that was happening
- Talk about something you used to do
- Say how old someone was
- Tell what the time was

Regular verbs in the imperfect take the following endings:

	Estar	Hacer	Salir
Yo	estaba	hacía	salía
Tú	estabas	hacías	salías
Usted, Él, Ella	estaba	hacía	salía
Nosotros	estábamos	hacíamos	salíamos
Vosotros	estabais	hacíais	salíais
Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	estaban	hacían	salían

MODELO: Él estaba aquí cuando yo hacía el pastel.
He was here when I was making the cake.

There are only 3 irregular verbs in the imperfect.

	Ser	Ir	Ver
Yo	era	iba	veía
Tú	eras	ibas	veías
Usted, Él, Ella	era	iba	veía
Nosotros	éramos	íbamos	veíamos
Vosotros	erais	ibais	veíais
Ustedes, Ellos, Ellas	eran	iban	veían

MODELO: Cuando yo era niña, íbamos a la playa.
When I was little, we used to go to the beach.

Preterite & Imperfect

You have learned two forms of the past tense in Spanish: the preterite and the imperfect. How do you know when to use each one?

Preterite usage	Imperfect usage
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Actions that are completed in the past. - Actions that have definite beginning and end points. - Actions that happened only one time or refer to only one time. - Actions that happened a specific number of times or at a certain time. - Actions that were part of a chain of events. - Actions that interrupt the imperfect. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Actions that are incomplete in the past (ongoing actions). - Actions that do not have a definite beginning or end/refer to a time in general in the past. - Actions that were repeated habitually. - Talking about age, time, feelings in the past. - Description in the past. “Setting the stage.” - Two actions happening at the same time in the past.

Useful phrases for the Preterite:

Una vez – once (one time)

Anoche – last night

Ayer - yesterday

El otro día - the other day

El año (verano, sábado) pasado – last (year)

Un día – one day

El (lunes) – On (Monday)

Hace (dos días) – (two days) ago

La semana pasada – last week

Siempre - always

Nunca – never

Todo el tiempo – all the time

Los lunes – on Mondays

Mientras – while/meanwhile

Useful phrases for the Imperfect:

A veces – sometimes

Muchas veces - often

A menudo - often

Cada día/semana/vez – every day/week/time

Todos los días/veranos/sábados – every day/summer/saturday

De vez en cuando – once in a while

Frecuentemente/con frecuencia - frequently

Generalmente - generally

Example:

El domingo pasado fui al mercado para comprar unas artesanías. (Preterite)
Last Sunday I went to the market to buy some handicrafts.

Todos los domingos iba al mercado para comprar unas artesanías. (Imperfect)
Every Sunday I would go (used to go) to the market to buy some handicrafts.

-car, -gar, and –zar verbs

In the preterite, verbs that end in -car, -gar, and -zar are spelled differently in the yo form to maintain their pronunciation.

Here's how:

buscar	c → qu	(yo) busqué
pagar	g → gu	(yo) pagué
empezar	z → c	(yo) emppecé

For example:

tú form

¿Buscaste las ruinas?
Did you look for the ruins?

¿Pagaste la cuenta?
Did you pay the bill?

¿Cuándo empezaste la excavación?
When did you begin the excavation?

yo form

Sí, busqué las ruinas.
Yes, I looked for the ruins.

No, no pagué la cuenta.
No, I didn't pay the bill.

Empecé la excavación ayer.
I began the excavation yesterday.

Here are some other verbs that change in the same way:

-car

-gar

llegar jugar

-zar
